Açaí Power™

- Açaí Power is high in Omega 3, 6 & 9 Fatty acids
- Açaí Power has a very high ORAC Antioxidant score (Antioxidant capacity)
- Açaí Power is sustainably harvested

Why is Açaí Power™ good for you?

The Açaí (euterpe oleracea) is a native palm of Central and South America. The berry of the Açaí is a traditional food among the people that inhabit the Amazon region of Brazil. The Acai berry is also one of the world's most popular superfoods!

Açaí is a potent source of antioxidants - substances which protect the body from the harmful effects of free radicals and oxidative damage. Açaí berry has a higher ORAC score (antioxidant capacity) than a range of other antioxidant-rich fruits.

Açaí is unique among fruits in that it contains omega 6 and 9 essential fatty acids, in quantities similar to olive oil. These fatty acids are thought to contribute to cardiovascular health and protection from heart disease.
